Overview

AI Automation for Managers

This program is built for forward-thinking professionals who want to master AI-driven automation and apply it across global industries such as travel, hospitality, retail, logistics, and finance.

Participants learn to design smart workflows, integrate systems using n8n, and lead teams with automation-first strategies.
Throughout the year, learners solve real use-cases from multiple industries, making them job-ready automation professionals.

The course culminates in a year-end capstone, where learners implement a full business automation model using n8n and complementary tools.
